OUR RECOMMENDATION

$2,650,000

5.16%

CAP RATE

$662,500

PER UNIT

$534

PER SF

13.88x

GRM

Anchored at the inside edge of the sold-comp cap range (5.09% – 5.82%) and 5% below sold-comp median per-unit pricing. A disciplined opener with room for upward buyer-side negotiation.

How we arrived at $2,650,000

Comp-driven triangulation across three independent pricing lenses

Lens 1 — $/SF basis SOLD-COMP RANGE $434 – $508 / SF SUBJECT AT $2,650,000 $534 / SF Modest premium for 2025 build + Toluca Lake address.	Lens 2 — $/unit basis SOLD-COMP RANGE $631K – $838K / unit SUBJECT AT $2,650,000 $662,500 / unit 5% below sold-comp median ($697K).	Lens 3 — Cap rate basis SOLD-COMP RANGE 5.09% – 5.82% SUBJECT AT $2,650,000 5.16% cap Just inside the comp cap-rate floor.

$2,650,000 reconciles all three pricing lenses while accounting for Toluca Lake's pricing premium over NoHo and the brand-new construction premium reflected in recent 2025 sales. The price is positioned to clear within an industry-standard 60–90 day marketing window, with room for upward buyer-side counter.

Methodology: Cap and GRM recalculated from sale price plus tax-adjusted NOI — never MLS-stated. Comp set = 4 sold + 3 on-market, filtered from 10 candidate properties on recency, similarity, and data-quality scoring.

Estimator only. LA Measure ULA (4% transfer tax above $5M) does not apply here. Final net depends on close date, debt payoff, prorations, and commission negotiated. Income / capital-gains tax not included.

We'll prepare an exact estimate via Marcus & Millichap's Seller Net workbook once terms are agreed — reproduces to the cent and is the same instrument your closing attorney will reconcile against.

Owner-friendly expense profile. Tenant pays trash, electric, gas, and insurance per MLS lease terms. Owner pays water only. Owned solar offsets common-area load. No professional management fee at 4-unit scale (owner-managed standard). No on-site manager required (sub-16 units). No RSO / AB1482 registration fees (vintage exempt).

Why our underwriting works for this property

26.2% OpEx ratio is structurally correct — here's the receipts

Building Profile

DRIVES R&M, RESERVES

- Brand-new 2025 construction (R&M at floor of range, reserves at 2025-build tier)
- No pool, elevator, laundry room, master metering, or on-site manager
- Zero deferred maintenance — punch list closed at CofO

Utility Allocation

MLS-CONFIRMED ACROSS ALL 5 LEASINGS

- Tenant pays: trash, electric, gas, insurance ($100K renter policy required)
- Owner pays: water (sewer assumed)
- Solar owned outright — offsets common-area electric

Vintage Exemptions

NO RENT-CONTROL / REGISTRATION FEES

- Built 2025 → exempt from LA RSO (pre-10/1/1978 cutoff)
- Built 2025 → exempt from AB1482 (< 15 years old)
- No LAHD or SCEP registration fees

Management

4-UNIT OWNER-MANAGED NORM

- 4 units < CA 16-unit on-site manager threshold → $0
- 4-unit ownership is professionally self-managed standard → no 4% mgmt fee
- Strong stabilized submarket → no marketing line item

This is also how we'd defend the underwriting against a buyer's DD challenge — same playbook, your team in your corner all the way through escrow.

Four recent sold comps anchor our valuation

—	Sold-comp median (4 comps)	—	$2,787,500	$696,875	$488	5.23%	—	—

Sold-comp median: $2.79M @ 5.46% cap. Subject at $2,650,000 / 5.16% cap is positioned at the disciplined inside edge of the range — accounting for Toluca Lake's pricing premium and the rear ADUs' zero-on-site-parking handicap.

The three sold comps that matter most

One Toluca Lake townhome (strongest) • two NoHo new-build precedents

10706 Camarillo St
TOLUCA LAKE • 2017 • 0.42 MI

$2,800,000 5.37% cap recalc

Same submarket. Townhome layout. 8 tandem gated parking. Sold at 97% of list.

5648 Cartwright Ave
NORTH HOLLYWOOD • 2025 • 1.21 MI

$2,775,000 5.82% cap recalc

2025 new-build precedent. Off-market trade (DOM 0). 7 parking spaces — 1.75 ratio.

11447 Cumpston St
NORTH HOLLYWOOD • 2025 • 1.05 MI

$3,350,000 $508 / SF

Top of 2025 NoHo new-build range. Townhomes, 8 parking. Sold at 96% of list.

Camarillo is our strongest direct comparison — same submarket, same townhome typology, just 0.42 mi away. Cartwright and Cumpston establish the 2025-build pricing band the subject sits within.

Demand is active when priced right — and unforgiving when it isn't

Two pending comps confirm active buyer demand · one local ceiling demonstrates the cost of overpricing

ACTIVE BUYER DEMAND

Pending in days, not months

- 5743 Case Ave (NoHo, 2018) — pending in 2 DOM at $530 / SF
- 5622 Willowcrest Ave (NoHo, 2025) — pending at $2.25M (reduced from $2.375M)

When 4-unit product is priced inside the comp range, buyers transact quickly. That's the demand signal we'll be capturing for 11025 Blix.

THE ASPIRATIONAL-PRICING CEILING

A live local lesson

11026 Hortense St #4 · Toluca Lake · 2025 · 4-detached compound on 16,504 SF lot · 0.15 mi south of subject

- Listed $5,995,000
- Reduced $5,395,000
- Still active at 111 DOM

What aspirational Toluca Lake pricing looks like in practice. Subject at $2,650,000 is calibrated to clear, not languish.

Toluca Lake — what makes it work

Established affluent submarket · scarce new MF stock · proven 4-unit demand

Why Toluca Lake

- Established affluent submarket with strong owner-occupant base
- Only ~3.4% of housing stock is attached duplex / townhome (ACS) — scarcity premium
- Universal Studios + Warner Bros employers within 3 mi
- Metro B Line access — Riverside/Lankershim station

TL vs. NoHo trading dynamics

- Toluca Lake addresses consistently trade tighter than equivalent NoHo product
- Reflected in Camarillo (TL) clearing at 5.37% vs. Cartwright (NoHo) at 5.82%
- Subject benefits from the TL premium on its front-townhome side

Renter profile

- 91602 median household income $97,994 (ACS 2018-22 5-yr)
- Median gross rent $2,226 / mo
- Subject's $2,995 – $4,895 rents = new-construction premium tier

Why now

- Recent 2025 4-unit NoHo closings (Cartwright pair, Cumpston) cleared at strong pricing
- Toluca Lake active inventory is thin — Hortense is the only competing 4-unit, and it's overpriced
- The window for a new-build Toluca Lake 4-unit is open right now
